

Nutraceutical Logistics by AXIS

END-TO-END SINGLE SOURCE SOLUTIONS

Axis Global Logistics provides comprehensive and fully integrated logistics support for the Nutraceuticals industry, including transportation, and ex-works. We understand the challenges our clients face as they source often-perishable ingredients from multiple suppliers worldwide. And, we understand the complexities our clients face as they manufacture products that are subject to expiration dates for distribution to retailers and customers across many locations. Every Axis client is assigned a dedicated service representative who coordinates and oversees the implementation of customized supply chain solutions that address all of these logistical hurdles. Our solutions are tailored for projects of any size – no project is too large, too small, or too complex and our industry-leading web-based technologies provide clients with real-time information at every step of the way.

Transportation management: Axis can facilitate transporting your goods through their entire distribution process. Managing the inbound transportation Ex-Works, receipt into the distribution center and to final delivery to the end user. Your organization has transparency through this entire process. During this process we ensure utilizing the most cost effective methods to meet your deadlines.

Fulfillment & Warehousing management: We provide comprehensive storage and distribution services for your company. Our cutting-edge warehouse technology platform allows us to provide real-time inventory, including lot numbers and expiration dates.

Ex-Works management: We help businesses get their products to international markets all over the world safely, responsibly, and in the most cost-effective manner possible.

Import/International management: Axis will facilitate and fulfill all of your IOR, EOR, and customs clearance requirements. Our objective is to help scale your business, minimize your resource requirements, and eliminate your risk.
